Washington, D.C. - Rep. Brad Miller (NC-13) today proudly announces the following nominations of outstanding North Carolina students to the House Democratic Page Program for the Spring 2011 session.

Julian Gilyard and Powell Eddins of Raleigh will live, study, and work in Washington, DC as House pages from January 24th through May 27th, 2011.

"Today's youth is still excited to participate in government." said Rep. Miller. "Julian and Powell are showing remarkable leadership traits at a very young age and will represent our state well in the halls of Congress."

Julian A. Gilyard

Knightdale High School – Knightdale, NC.

Julian is an AP student, Executive Treasure of the Student Government Association, jazz band member, church choir member, a member of the soccer team, and lettered varsity wrestler. Julian has been described as leader in the classroom as well as in the greater school community, a true "renaissance man" instrumental in a culture change at Knightdale High School.

William "Powell" Eddins

St. David's School – Raleigh, NC.

Powell is an AP Student, member of National Honors Society, show choir, Thespian, Chorale, and a lettered varsity tennis player. A teacher described Powell as being one of the most gifted individuals she had ever taught.
